No Union This Year

SYNOD MEETS HERE NEXT YEAR.

Sessions are of Unusual Interest and are Well attended.
The Question of Union was Subject of Great Importance.

The discussion of union with the United Presbyterian church at the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church resulted in the matter being carried over from Friday afternoon until Tuesday.

The Monday sessions pertained to the work of the Foreign Missionaries and the report of the board. A recommendation was made to suspend the work in India which brought about animated discussion. There was strong opposition to giving up the work. The reason given for such recommendation was that the work of the missionaries was not sufficient to warrant it continued longer. A resolution was passed that the work should be continued.

Tuesday the last day of the Synod was the most interesting of all, as there were many topics up for consideration that were of importance to the welfare of the church.

The committee on union consisting of five ministers and five elders from Synod presented its report through Dr. Watters as chairman. The committee was divided and two reports presented, a majority and minority. The latter was presented by Rev. W. J. Smiley, of Sparta, Ill.

Dr. Watters made a full explanation as to the work the committee had considered and endeavored to show the position of different congregations. Rev. Smiley moved the adoption of the minority report which recommended the postponement of any action for the present.

The discussions at this time were earnest in every respect and Dr. McKinney took occasion to charge in very forcible language on the floor of Synod that one member had circulated a petition to disrupt his congregation which was peaceable and law abiding in every respect. Mr. Huston, of Pittsburg, advocated that those opposed to union should be brave enough to meet the issue face to face, and let the truth be known.

The majority report formed a basis of union between the Reformed and United Presbyterian churches, as to the church laws, educational institutions and the name of the united body. "The United Presbyterian Church of North America," Attorney N. L. Parks, of Cincinnati, moved that the name "United Presbyterian" be stricken out of the report, and that "Presbyterian" be substituted. Mr. Parks advocated that it was useless to enter a denomination, that in a few years would be absorbed by some other body. He thought if there was to be a change let one move do, and settle the matter.

By motion of Dr. McKinney, the minority report was tabled by a vote of 12 to 16.

The Tuesday afternoon session was devoted largely to the reading of reports.

It seems that during the noon hour, an agreement had been reached between those in favor of union and those opposed, that resulted in Rev. J. L. Chesnut, D.D., offering a substitute for the majority report. Some of those in favor of union, did not favor the majority report as read by Dr. Watters, and the substitute was passed. It allows the First Reformed Presbyterian church of Pittsburg, to withdraw at its wish. Some time was required, however, in getting the matter properly before Synod. It is not known for certain, whether this congregation will enter the United Presbyterian or Presbyterian denominations. It was with much regret that members of Synod took this action, as Dr. Watters is considered one of the ablest divines in the church.

The question as to what is to be done with the R. P. Seminary in Philadelphia, was another important matter. Dr. James Steel, of New York City, has resigned as a professor, and the financial condition shows that the institution has been losing. Rev. Clarence Young, and others, spoke as to merging it with the General Reformed in Philadelphia. This matter was referred to the Board of Superintendents.

Another proposition concerning the seminary was to bring it here and conduct it with Cedarville College. This was vigorously opposed by the Mr. Fleming of Philadelphia. It was advocated that as a matter of economy, the institution could be conducted better here, than in Philadelphia. This question was also referred to the Board of Superintendents.

Mr. A. V. Reid, of Cincinnati, after reading the report of the Bible Society, stated that he would give $100 to the Bible Society, if the Savage would give a like amount, the latter making the same proposition as at a previous session, the whole amount to go to the college.

Two Former Cedarvillians.

It is our pleasure to present the above likeness of two of Cedarville's sons that have attained some prominence in the religious world. Both were delegates to the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church from their respective Presbyteries and both have become influential in advancing the interests of their denomination.

The one to the left is Rev. C. A. Young of the Third Reformed Presbyterian church, Philadelphia. Rev. Young is a member of a number of committees and boards of the church. He is a graduate of Cedarville college. It is his intention to visit the British Isles this coming summer.

The one to the right is Rev. W. W. Illf of Duaneburg, N. Y., who has done efficient work as pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian congregation in his town. Rev. Illf is also a member of several boards of the church and a graduate of Cedarville College. He also had the honor of being made one of the clerks during the Synod just closed.

The time and place of meeting for next year came up, and Rev. S. M. Ratsey, of Los Angeles, Cal., suggested his city. There were no other suggestions for a time, until Cedarville was hinted at by Dr. J. L. Chesnut, who thought he most enjoyed a visit here, though not a burden the people as they have been. Mr. James Cresswell then suggested Cedarville, and it was decided to come here again next year, but one week later in May, so that all could be here for college commencement. The time was then set for the fourth Wednesday in May, 1907. Rev. J. Y. Boyce, D.D., to preach the opening sermon, and Rev. J. L. Chesnut, D.D., his alternate. After resolutions of thanks to the Moderator, clerks, pastor of the congregation, members and friends who entertained, the Synod of 1906 was adjourned.

CEDARVILLE WINS THE DEBATE.

The inter-collegiate debate between Cedarville and Wilmington colleges, took place in the opera house last Friday evening. The attendance was probably the largest that ever gathered here on a similar occasion, and the enthusiasm ran high throughout the evening. The Wilmington team of debaters was accompanied by some sixty of their students and the hall from the gathering of the crowd, until the decision was announced was a scene of great activity on the part of the college students.

There were megaphones, cornets, class songs and yells, and every known device to make the most noise in evidence. The audience was at the mercy of the students for once. Both sides had their college yells and songs well prepared. George Stewart lead on the part of the local students. At different intervals, a piper was released that had been decorated with college colors, this being a new innovation.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved, that the Railroads of the United States Should be Owned and Controlled by the Government." Cedarville College was represented by Joseph Finney, W. P. Shaw and L. T. Marshall, in defense of the affirmative. Wilmington was represented by Louis T. Jones, Thurman Miller and Clifton Hazard in support of the negative.

The team was well matched and the visitors put up good arguments, but the home boys had the best of the subject and argument, as the judges decided unanimously in favor of Cedarville. The judges were Prof. Edward Mack, of Lane Seminary, Cincinnati; Prof. Rhoades, Ohio State University, Columbus; George Brown, Cincinnati.

After the decision, the friends of both colleges gathered in Afford Memorial Hall for a spread in honor of the visitors. Here the many students and friends toasted to each other. It is estimated that three hundred people were present. President Brown, of Wilmington, President McKinney, of Cincinnati, and Prof. Mack, made short speeches. Although defeated, the Wilmington people left in good spirit and with a determination to win back her laurels when the local team visits there next year.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The following items taken from the Christian Union Herald will be of interest to many:

Rev. S. G. Huey recently moderated in a call at the Waggoner Place United Presbyterian church, St. Louis, for Rev. A. J. Campbell, D. D. The call was hearty and unanimous. This congregation now comes self-supporting. Dr. Campbell has rendered efficient service here as stated supply and has won for himself a host of friends.

"The Rev. E. O. Ross of Washington, Iowa, has recently taken charge of the Rock Prairie congregation in Wisconsin. His address is Janesville, Wisconsin. This is one of the best country congregations in our denomination. After a pastorate of almost 15 years I can bear testimony of the most complimentary character to the wide awake, active, aggressive, and liberal people. For many years it has been a quota-paying congregation. In a pastorate of almost fifteen years but few sermons were preached without being paid for before they were preached. The writer has pleasant memories of a fifteen year's fellowship with this worthy people. Both pastor and people are to be congratulated on the outlook. It is their custom to pay the salary semi-annually in advance. They have a fine church property consisting of church building and parsonage. It has a L. M. S., a Y. L. M. S., a Christian Union, a Junior Christian Union and an up-to-date Sabbath school. A popular lecture course is also maintained by the Young People's society that is in no sense inferior to that conducted in cities of 15,000 inhabitants, or even many of the larger cities."

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

It is desired by the officers of the Cedarville Protective Association that those having given their names for membership without the membership fee $1.00 will please leave same at the Exchange Bank or give it to the Secretary and Treasurer, Andrew Winter at their earliest convenience. A reasonable length of time has already been granted to make this payment.

CEDARVILLE WON

The best game of base ball here this season was won from the Capital team from Columbus on the home grounds, Wednesday. The game was interesting from the start the score being 8 to 5.

SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST LIGHT CO.

T. B. Andrew filed suit in Common Pleas Court Monday against the Cedarville Electric Light Company and E. G. Lowery, superintendent of the company, asking for a mandatory injunction to compel them to remove the electric light pole from in front of his property, that has at various times caused much controversy and been the result of sensationalism. Besides the removal of the pole damages are asked for in the amount of $500, the plaintiff claiming that he has been damaged to this extent.

The plaintiff avers that the pole prevents ingress and egress to his property by means of his driveway. He claims that the pole was not set according to the consent of the authorities, though it has stood there for probably ten years without complaint. He also says that council has by resolution asked for the removal of the same and that the notices have been ignored. He maintains that the pole affects the value of his property.

The history of the pole controversy is fresh in the minds of all as it was only a few weeks ago in the darkness of the night that some vandal attempted to destroy it by cutting it off a few inches above the ground. At that time a nail was struck and the work was only half finished. However a few nights later the saw was used to good advantage and the pole cut off and pushed to one side. Mr. Lowery replaced it and nailed it in position again and it still stands.

To protect his property Mr. Lowery stood guard a few nights later and was rewarded for his task in finding out who was so much interested as to make another attempt to cut the pole. He was so close on to the man that had come from his home in the late hours of the night to do this work that he could have placed his hands on him. Like a thief at his work and seeing he was to be captured he cowardly ran into his yard and into the house with Mr. Lowery in pursuit. It is then to be expected that at the hearing of the suit some sensational things will come out.

Mr. Lowery has retained M. T. Snodgrass to represent him in the case.

Enters Entertainment Field.

Mr. W. D. Nesbit, known to thousands of friends through his writings on the Chicago Tribune and Baltimore American and in many magazines, has severed his connection with the former to do free lance writing and lecturing. He will contribute to a syndicate that will handle his matter. Mr. Nesbit is among the entertainers listed for the season of 1906-07 with the Central Lyceum Bureau of Chicago.

The Western Publisher has the following to say: "All of Mr. Nesbit's friends, and he has an abundance and then some, believe he will succeed as an independent worker. He has good stuff in him, is ambitious and a teller by the midnight oil."

Mr. Nesbit is president of the Chicago Press Club.

ADDRESS BY DR. JONES.

Dr. Johnus Jones, president of Wilberforce University, addressed the delegates of the Christian Endeavor Society attending the General Synod, in the R. P. church Sabbath evening on the "Negro Problem."

Dr. Jones discussed this subject in an entirely new light to most of the audience and left a much different impression as to the ultimate solution of the problem.

The address was prefaced by a historical description of the early traffic in slavery in the back centuries. The speaker also showed how it came that the negro was imported to this country and why he drifted to the south. The north was responsible for slavery in this country but the climate being against the negro and that section being devoted almost exclusively to manufacturing purposes the negro drifted south as a natural result of conditions.

The northern men who had established a business of selling slaves soon saw that the south had to have the negro to work the great cotton fields. The speaker here showed that the negro in his early stages in Africa had had some crude knowledge of farming as it was the way they made their living in their native country.

As long as the negro was of some value to the northern slaves dealers and as long as the cotton was being manufactured in New England, little was said of slavery. But when the South began to manufacture the cotton for the markets then came the jealousy of the Northerner.

The situation was made a political issue and the rest is well known history.

Dr. Jones in his pleading for his people asked no more for them than they deserve and only wants this when they are able to care for it. He asks that they be given a chance to earn their places in the making of future history. He advocates national assimilation for his people.

GOING EAST.

WOLFORD WINS AGAINST COUNCIL.

Long Contested Gutter Finally Decided by Judge Kyle on Monday. Court is Plain on the Rulings and Who pays the Costs.

By the decision of Judge Kyle in the Common Pleas court, Monday, neither the "Boss" Andrew's silly schemes to satisfy personal spite was crushed as though a mere shell.

Long about this time of the year 1905, the "Boss" having the controlling power in the village legislative body, proceeded to use the public servants and the public money to settle personal differences. Council had granted residents of Xenia the privilege of moving out their curbs, and putting in cement curbs and gutters. Mr. T. E. Wolford, had in 1903, by permission of council, placed a cement gutter on the old line and grade. As his was not to correspond, council proceeded to force him to move out. After much deliberation on the part of council and Wolford on different propositions, Mr. Wolford proposed to move out if council would remove the gutter and replace it, while he (Wolford) would put in the curb. Council was ready to accept the plan, until J. H. Andrew, council leader, advisor and brother of the "Boss" kicked the traces and wanted Wolford to pay for half of the gutter, beside the curb.

On June 26, 1905, James Bailey, street commissioner was in the act of taking up the first block of cement when discovered by Mr. David Bradfute, who happened along. The witness knowing the case as it was then, wanted Bailey to let it alone, but he received the answer that council had ordered it up. Some time later, Bailey took up the conversation with Mr. Bradfute, and stated that he should tell what he knew when the case should come in court. Another similar conversation took place just a few days before the trial between Bailey and Bradfute in reference to the same thing. Bailey still claiming that Wolford could not hold him as he had been ordered to do the work by council.

Strange to say, and nothing particularly strange to say either, to one who understands the working of politics, Bailey came near having no memory

Published Weekly. FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923.

SAVE THE PARTY.

About every so many months the Republican party in Greene county under the guidance and direction of "Boss" Schmidt of Xenia gets into dire straits.

Already instances are recorded when leading Republicans, but of the anti-machine type, have been voted out of the party by the "Bosses" central committee.

When the Committee of One Hundred in Xenia wanted better city government they chose a man of sterling qualities and so warm did the fight get that few men there were that cared to make the race on the Republican ticket for Mayor of Xenia under those circumstances.

Then came the cry to "save the party" and W. F. Trader, who only a few months previously had been voted out in a central committee meeting was forced to take the nomination as I was one of the few men on the ticket that was fortunate in being elected.

Another case is recorded and that is H. L. Gowdy, a prominent attorney in Xenia, that has spent much time and energy in fighting for the good of the party against the onslaughts of the corrupt "Boss".

At the present time there has been a change. Mr. Gowdy has at last been appealed to "save the party". To save the party controlled and owned by the ex-Democrats, Schmidt, Dines, et al. Mr. Gowdy is recognized as a leading lawyer and the "gang" has needed his services in trying to land Judge Smith in the congressional contest.

For days back he has been hounded by the "gang" henchmen wanting him to assist in making out the Smith papers for the legal battle. Mr. Gowdy had charge of Judge Serogy's fight two years ago and won against the trickery of "gang" lawyers, the secretary of state and politicians. The Supreme court finally settled the case.

Mr. Gowdy has not yielded yet to assist the men that have stabbed him on every hand and we hope that he continues to give the "Boss" the cold shoulder. Mr. Gowdy certainly hasn't yet forgot the recent contest for congressional nomination when Judge Serogy offered to withdraw to settle the Hildebrand-Serogy fight.

The withdrawal was in favor of Gowdy and this was like waving a red flag in the face of the "Boss". The "gangsters" became so enraged.

CONTINUE. There is no other tonic so effective as Scott's Emulsion. It is the only one that builds up the system and restores the health.

ASTONISHING RESULT. An Attack of Gravel. Dr. D. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

ed that the word went out "anybody but Gowdy" and the convention was packed with stolen delegates and Judge Smith, who had been a standing candidate for years, was presented something he has since found out he does not want.

Such is the status of the Republican party in Greene county at the present time and such it will be as long as the party machinery is used for monetary gain by one man who sells public office and patronage as so much meal.

THE MUCK-BED.

Governor Hanley of Indiana made an inspiring address to the students and faculty of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., Memorial day. In commenting on the topics of the day, the Governor declared that as long as the "muck-bed" remained, he hoped that the "muck-raker" would continue his work.

FARM-FIELD GARDEN

WHEAT SEED.

Frequent Change Not Desirable—Best to Stick to a Good Thing. The old idea that seed tended to "run out" if grown too long on the same soil is a fallacy.

Grain and Local Conditions. Buying seed every few years from regions having different soils and climates is unwise.

IN ONE'S OWN GARDEN.

Pears and Onions—How to Bring on These Favorite Crops. Pears are perhaps the most satisfactory and indispensable vegetable that one can grow in his own garden.

A good compost of stable manure is decidedly better for growing pears than commercial fertilizers.

Onions that are to be grown from the sets should be planted very early. Onion sets are small, dry onions grown from seed the previous year.

MAN'S BUSINESS FRONT.

Remarks of Prosperity and Their Influence on the Trade. A man to succeed must have the opportunity of doing his business in a profitable way.

For the last six months I have taken my lunch at a place much frequented by farmers and their families, and I have been amused and saddened by the way they look and act.

Hotbeds. Their Season is Now On—General Methods of Construction. The date at which the hotbed may be started with safety depends almost entirely on the means at command for heating it.

Hotbeds are sometimes started as early as January, or they may be delayed until March. There are various methods of construction, from the excavation or pit, two or more feet in depth, walled up with brick or planks, to the simple box set above ground and tilted on one side for the slant to the south.

Balancing Stable Manure. Stable manure is a low grade fertilizer, having a total of only twenty-five pounds of plant food in a ton.

Drainage of Irrigated Lands. While the necessity for the drainage of irrigated lands will doubtless be less obvious when water is more economically used and supply canals are improved, a considerable loss of water from both causes will always be unavoidable.

GARDEN KEYBOARD. It may not be amiss to mention that the amateur gardener would achieve better results if he did not exhaust all his enthusiasm in buying the seeds.

To prevent sun on onions start the seed in pans and grow them inside until of a size that the sun cannot penetrate.

Get the seed orders in. When the spring comes with a such the seedman is always swamped by an influx of orders.

Asparagus past goes over winter on the refuse and on the diseased stalks cut or left uncut because want for marketing. Profit by this hint another season if you have to fight rust this year.

Decide what you will grow. Get seed early and test before planting. Try to inspect all the garden ready and hotbed each and get them ready for the busy time.

Cabbage and cauliflower may now be started in the greenhouse and transferred to cold frames later. Plan for a succession of work rather than for those crops that will require much attention all at the same time.
